Disclaimer: All Heroes in Bo Jackson Battle Arena are fictional characters who represent everyday fans that gained super powers after eating radioactive hot dogs and built superhero personas inspired by their favorite athletes. The "Inspired by" column identifies the real-world athlete whose public performance or fan culture influenced the creative direction of that character, similar to how a fan might wear a jersey or costume. This reference does not suggest likeness, identity, partnership, or endorsement unless the athlete's real name appears on their official Bo Jackson Battle Arena cards.
